ISAAC NEWTON VAUGHAN.

EN ROUTE TO VIRGINIA, Aug. 9.—A sad, sad mission takes me to the scenes of my youth, where death has called me many times in the last five and twenty years. This time I go to attend the funeral of the husband of an only sister, who, next to a brother, was the dearest friend I ever knew. Born near the same time and raised on adjoining farms in the mother State, intimate from infancy, playmates, schoolmates, business associates in early manhood, brother-in-law, it is but natural that I am deeply, terribly grieved.

Newton Vaughan was nature's real nobleman. Brave, open hearted, generous, affable, lovable, he seemed born for success, in every undertaking, rarely touching anything that did not turn to gold. Starting life as a railroad contractor, he went into the tobacco business at Richmond, Va., after the completion of the Chesapeake & Ohio and by great business tact, energy and foresight amassed a fortune. It was at the work that he loved so that he fell Monday afternoon, almost without previous symptoms of disease, and expired. He was a very large man and his death was doubtless due to apoplexy.

Unlike most men who are wrapped up in worldly affairs, so largely, Newton Vaughan had not neglected to prepare for the change that must come sooner or later to us all. For years he was a true and humble follower of the Lord, and his church work and charities were a wonder to all who were even slightly aware of the great good he did for his fellowman. Death came to him unawares, but it did not find him unprepared. He watched and waited for the Lord and to-day is doubtless enjoying the fulfillment of the promises to the finally faithful.

To the fond wife, whom he idolized and by whom he was idolized in return, my heart goes out in the tenderest sympathy and love. She more than all the world will feel the weight of the terrible blow. It is she who will miss his home-coming and grieve to know that she will no more hear his cheering voice greet her in loving accents again; no more will his magnetic presence be felt. He loved his family and in his home found the sweetest happiness of life. But it is all over; the pitcher has been broken at the fountain, earthly ties are sundered, and the happy family mourns its husband and father. God pity the weeping widow and children and sanctify their great sorrow to their eternal good.

Five sons, including Frank, who spent the summer with his uncles, at Stanford, ranging in ages from 18 to five years, survive him to know no more a father's love or watchful care. He led them in the right direction. May they emulate his example and with father, mother, all, be a reunited family in Heaven.

Tomorrow in beautiful Hollywood, the loveliest city of the dead I ever saw, the mortal remains of our dear friend and brother will be laid to rest beside those of his little daughter, Ella Lee, whose gentle life went out shortly after her visit to Stanford 10 years ago, where she made so many friends, who still remember her lovingly. Life's fitful fever over he rests in peace and

"Sweet be his sleep,
"Till he bids him arise
To meet him in gladness
Ascending the skies."

WAR WILL SOON BE OVER.

IF SPAIN ACCEPTS OUR TERMS, WHICH SHE WILL SURELY DO.

COL. COLSON'S REGIMENT ORDERED TO JACKSONVILLE.

MADRID, Aug. 11.—Spain has in substance American reply. Ministers satisfied and will authorize Cambon to sign protocol.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Miles sends word of two skirmishes 8th and 9th. Five wounded in each. Spanish acceptance is expected tomorrow.

Gen. Schwan telegraphs engagement with large Spanish force near Mayaguez. Two privates killed, Lieut. Riley wounded in foot.

LEXINGTON, Aug. 11.—Colson's regiment is ordered to Jacksonville.

WAR TALK.

Thirty-five millions will not cover the loss Spain suffered in warships. The ladies of Bowling Green will send a number of dressed doves to the sick soldiers.

If the peace negotiations eventuate as expected, 150,000 men will be immediately mustered out of the army.

The commissioner of internal revenue has decided that reinsurance is exempt from war revenue stamp. This is welcome news for the fire insurance men. By reinsurance is meant transfer of policies of a risk without the issuance of a new policy.

Lewis Partin, who was shot by Deputy Sheriff Partin in Bell, when he tried to get away after arrest, died of his wounds.

The Spanish Government claims to have expended $450,000,000 in a futile effort to put down the present insurrection in Cuba.

Gen. J. S. Poland, commanding the 2d division, First Army Corps at Chickamauga, died at Asheville, N. C., of typhoid fever.

News comes that the Christobal Colon will never float again and that the favorable reports of the Maria Teresa were premature.

Gen. Grant, his staff, and the remainder of the First Kentucky regiment under Col. Castleman, got away from Newport News Wednesday for Porto Rico.

Capt. C. D. Sigsbee, formerly commander of the battleship Maine, has been assigned to the battleship Texas, the time for the retirement of Capt. Phillip being at hand.

A two-cent stamp will carry a one-ounce letter from any post-office in the United States to any soldier, sailor or other employee of this government in Cuba, Porto Rico or the Philippines. It is said at Washington that all the volunteers in the State camps will be mustered out of service. Those in the general camps will be kept under orders until plans are completed for the necessary armies of occupation.

The president has determined to recommend to Congress that Acting Rear Admiral Sampson be advanced eight numbers, and Commodore Schley six numbers. This will result in making each a Rear Admiral, but Commodore Schley ranking immediately below Admiral Sampson.

That the situation at Manila is serious was evidenced by the decision to rush more reinforcements to Gen. Merritt as fast as possible. Ten thousand troops have been ordered to Manila. They will leave as soon as transports can be made ready at San Francisco.

The following dispatch was received here Tuesday morning, which has been fully verified since: "The first fighting between American and Spanish troops on land in the Philippines took place on July 31, when the Spaniards made a desperate night attack on the American trenches at Malate, near Manila. The Americans were greatly outnumbered, but the volunteers stood their ground and drove back their assailants with heavy loss. Two hundred Spaniards were killed and 300 wounded. The American loss was 11 killed and 46 wounded. The insurgents took no hand in the fighting."

Assistant Surgeon Edward L. Munson has made a detailed report of the hospital conditions during the Santiago campaign, placing the blame upon Maj. Gen. Shafter and the Quartermaster Department. Medical supplies were ample, but the ships conveying them were anchored miles out at sea for a week, even after a battle had occurred. No tents were landed, and even after a boat was obtained to be used for landing them it was taken away by Gen. Shafter's orders. Nor were provisions made for conveying the hospital material to the proper place, even after it had been brought ashore.

The commissioned staff of a colonel of a regiment consists of an adjutant, quartermaster who is also commissary, surgeon, assistant surgeon or surgeons, and chaplain. The non-commissioned staff includes a sergeant major, quartermaster's sergeant, commissary sergeant and principal musician. The lieutenant-colonel and majors are field officers and not staff officers. In the new three battalion formation the majors commanding battalions have a staff but not so large as the colonel's. The surgeon of a regiment ranks as a major and gets the pay of a major of cavalry, but he is not known in military circles as a surgeon major.

A protocol embodying the terms proposed by the United States and accepted by Spain as the basis of a treaty of peace was agreed upon Wednesday at Washington, and has been cabled by M. Cambon to Madrid, with a request for authority to sign it for the Spanish government. When this is signed, which it is thought will be done at once, hostilities will then cease as soon as the commanders of forces in the field can be notified. The protocol is an elaboration of the terms heretofore announced. It does not fix the day nor the details for the evacuation of Cuba and Porto Rico by the Spanish troops. Spain is to be allowed to evacuate these islands with the honors of war, the troops taking all their arms and equipments. It is said that Spain's reply was not free from ambiguity, but the president construed it as an acceptance of his terms, and Ambassador Cambon agreed with him. There is not believed to be a possibility of Spain repudiating this construction. Should she do so, negotiations would probably be broken off entirely.

THE HUSTONVILLE FAIR.

A GRAND SUCCESS, BOTH IN SHOW OF STOCK AND ATTENDANCE.

AN ENORMOUS CROWD EXPECTED TODAY.

The rain of Tuesday and dark clouds of Wednesday morning caused those who wanted to see the Hustonville Fair a success considerable uneasiness, but by 11 o'clock the clouds had disappeared and old Sol was shining beautifully.

The show of stock is excellent. The best in the State are there and the animal that wears a "silk" tie would stand a good showing any where. A dozen or more counties are represented by stock and stock men, anxious both for the liberal premiums and the honor of winning blue strings over such fields of contestants.

The crowd Wednesday was estimated at about 600, while that of yesterday was several times that number. To-day it is believed that 2,500 to 3,000 people will be there.

As usual the West Enders are showing their hospitality; the officers, directors and all vying with each other to make it pleasant for their guests.
